IMTA Alumni Participated in the Hottest Fashion Collections and Runway Shows

IMTA Alumni models rocked the runways for the designers debuting their Spring/Summer 2017 looks!

IMTA with IMD International of Medford, Oregon. Mariah was IMTA 2008 New York Female Junior Model of the Year, Female Junior Actor of the Year and Most Sought Female Model with 135 callbacks! Mariah was also recently featured by Maxim Magazine as "a classic beauty that kills it in high-fashion editorials and exotic beachside shoots in equal measure, Mariah Strongin is a model to watch."

Andrea Debevc walked for Michael Costello (pictured left). She also walked for Just In Case, Berenik, Rohitava Banerjee, Pelush and Malan Breton. "It is always an honor to be chosen for any show or job, so it is a surreal thing. The auditions or castings are all about being yourself and coming across as natural as possible, because that is when the client can truly see if you are right for the job. I love runway, so to be on stage for me is an adrenaline rush and I feel very proud to be chosen, but at the same time, you have to be okay when you do not get the show. They may have been looking for a different 'look' and you cannot take that disappointment in with you to the next casting. Confidence, originality, and professionalism are some things that I keep in mind when casting, walking in a show, and just living life." Andrea competed at IMTA with Pro Model and Talent Management of Akron, Ohio.

Phoenix Anderson (left) and Valerie Wetmore (right) were both in Kanye West's Yeezy Season 4! Phoenix competed at IMTA New York 2016 with Social New York, becoming a finalist for both Female Model of the Year and Most Sought Female Model.
